“Ornate Interiors took our brief and concept proposals to provide a ‘feature wall’ in the recently completed 3 Wellington Place and, transformed it into a wonderful installation that fulfilled the client’s expectations and aspirations. Their workmanship is meticulous and they provided in-house expertise on buildability, detailing as well as the supporting structure.”

Project: Wellington Place, Leeds

The clients wanted to enhance the reception area with a feature wall that referenced the history of the site but that would also enhance the experience of people arriving at the premises.

The former station buildings were not particularly distinctive architecturally, but their rooflines presented three pyramids that shaped the site. Interlinked triangular structures were evident in the overhead glazed panels. These features were replicated in the patterning decided on for mouldings running the height of the feature wall. The configuration would create interesting variations in light and shade, made more noticeable by choosing to keep the feature wall a pure white.
